

Severe Weather Services

Frequently Asked Questions

Each year, Multnomah County experiences episodes of inclement weather referred to as Severe Weather. The conditions pose an immediate danger to the life and health of unsheltered people, especially those living with medical or mental health conditions that may make them more vulnerable in extreme weather.

During Severe Weather accessible, life-saving services are organized across our community to ensure that anyone sleeping unsheltered has access to safe, dry daytime and overnight shelter. Transition Projects opens and operates Severe Weather Shelter services (SWS) in Multnomah County at night and expanded day services during these events.

What are the weather thresholds for Severe Weather?

- Forecasted temperature 25° F or below
- Forecasted snow accumulations of 1.0 inch or more sticking to the ground in most locations.
- Forecasted temperature at or below 32° F (0° C) with driving rain of 1.0 inch or more overnight
- Other factors, such as extreme temperature fluctuation or wind chill, may influence services
